CENTENNIAL GREETINGS FROM THE PRINCIPAL

PREFACE

As we seek in this book, to commemorate and to celebrate over one hundred years of educational service to and with the Church in Vermont and the people of Central Vermont, Rutland in particular, it is very fitting to spend some moments to walk back in history and to reflect gratefully on all that has been. Much research has been done and will be shared with all who read these pages, yet some things will escape print for various reasons. Thus, what is written will jog memories and renew smiles of yesteryear.

As the current principal of Mt. St. Joseph Academy, it is indeed a privilege to be here at this time of such moment. This, my twenty fifth year at M.S.J. and fourth as its principal, is but a part of its history. During its life span M.S.J. has grown in size to over 650 at times and then diminished to just below 350. While the numbers have changed with the times, the goals have remained basically the same. The over-all growth, spiritual, intellectual, social and physical, of the student remains paramount.

Mt. St. Joseph began as a small boarding school for girls. Then, with desire to meet the needs of the time, it was expanded and opened to boys. It is a fully State approved private secondary day school for grades nine through twelve. It has given birth to a tradition which is rich in excellence in all aspects of student life and has given society many, many servants and leaders in all paths of life. Each year M.S.J. graduates move on to their next venture well prepared to take their place in our world.

While M.S.J. has been rich in so many things through the years, finances has always been an area of struggle. The financial problems through the years have remained with us, though timely gifts have allowed us to continue. The great generosity of parents, faculty and students in giving of their time to help us to meet each need has become a tradition in itself. Contributed services abound. It is my fervent prayer that our very modest Endowment Fund will receive many gifts in the centenary year and thus insure our future in some more financially stable manner. Each year for the past several, the school conducts an Annual Development Fund Drive. The Alumni, in particular, are generous contributors. Many people who are not graduates, but who do value the presence of M.S.J. have also regularly contributed. The opportunity to invest in a catholic education of such quality is an opportunity accepted by many and each year the current graduates join this group of supporters.

We look back on these one hundred plus years with great gratitude for all that has been. We must be grateful to the early Sisters of St. Joseph who came from Flushing, Long Island at the invitation of Father Charles Boylan to begin a school in Rutland. We are grateful also, to all of the Sisters who through the years gave so generously of themselves, their time and their talents and more particularly for their faith in God. It is the great love of God and of neighbor which impelled and motivated those early Sisters to begin this institution that we now know as Mt. St. Joseph Academy, which has had such significant impact. Obviously, the inspiration and guidance of the Holy Spirit has been present throughout our history and one need only to be present here for a day to know without doubt that truly God is here. His hand is ever at work in the lives and concerns of the entire Mt. St. Joseph Community. I do not use the word community without thought. Truly, we are a community in every aspect of the word . . . we care, we share, we love, we make mistakes and we make amends, we believe that there is one who watches over us and remains with us.

To all of you who will be reading these pages and celebrating life with us, thank you. Thank you for today, for yesterday and for tomorrow.

My memories of all those with whom I have shared my life at MSJ as teacher, principal, alumna, and friend, are stored away in my heart. To study, to follow up, and to see the opening up of your minds and hearts has been perhaps one of the great joys of my teaching years. I treasure even more deeply now my work with the Alumni. When I experience your dedication, love, and loyalty, I thank God for my many years at the Academy. This year, I hope you can look back and enjoy as many happy memories during our Centennial as I can. It was all accomplished with God's help. Heaven is won that way too!

-Sister M. Annuciata, SSJ

They were three happy years that I spent as Principal of MSJ. The good spirit of the students and the faculty was very evident and gave the school a real character. We had a state championship in football. There was great interest in the school by the clergy of the three parishes. I found it very stimulating to work with the sisters on the faculty and the lay coaches, and I enjoyed work with the students and classes in Religion with the Juniors and Seniors.

Congratulations on this Centenary!

-Msgr. Edward J. Fitzsimons

Anyone whose life has touched the Academy is also one whose life has been touched by the Academy. To have served 11 years as Principal of Mt. St. Joseph's is to have been allowed to be involved in the lives of the faculty and well over one thousand students, and the added joy to have been called to live in Rutland for 22 years after Mt. St. Joseph. This has afforded me the opportunity to meet, almost daily, former students and present students who are the children of the former students.

God has blessed us all with happy memories of one another; He has graced us all so often through one another; may He continue to be the Ultimate One in whom all at MSJ trusts.

-Msgr. John A. Lynch

It is a pleasure to greet you on the occasion of M.S.J.'s one hundredth graduation. I was privileged to be a small part of M.S.J.'s history from 1960 to 1966. What are a few of my memories? A dynamic growing school . . . a great faculty spirit . . . teachers long dedicated to excellence in education . . . lots of bright, enthusiastic students . . . undefeated years in football . . . it was just a great place to be!

-Father Wendell Searles

For those of us who are now or ever have been a part of M.S.J., this is indeed a time of great rejoicing. Mount Saint Joseph has been for one hundred years a source of excellent Catholic education. Our graduates have contributed generously to both their religious and civil community. May it continue to do so for another hundred years. I am grateful for having been a part of the M.S.J. community.

-Father John O'Connell

When I look back on my years at M.S.J. there are no regrets - only feelings of warmth, gratitude and mostly love. Love of the dreams the ideals, the challenge, the reality, the day to day living and sharing together; love for the people who formed and shaped the community we call M.S.J.

There is a truth I have always known. Perhaps I know it now more than ever before. M.S.J. is not a building; it is people. We are M.S.J.

-Father Richard Lavalley

HISTORICAL NOTES

THE NAME of Rev. Charles J. Boylan (1830-1886) has long been remembered as the one responsible for bringing the Sisters of St. Joseph to Rutland. As the fifth pastor of St. Peter's Church, he supervised construction of the present church. Father Boylan converted the schoolhouse next to the church into a rectory so that the old rectory on Meadow Street could become a convent. The priest had long hoped that the Sisters would staff the parish school. Two of Father Boylan's cousins, Sister Borgia and Sister Mary John, belonged to this order. Father's first request for teachers from the Motherhouse in Flushing, Long Island, New York was not granted. Undaunted, Father Boylan boarded the train to New York, and his cogent appeal moved Mother Austin Keane and Sisters Irene, Patricia, Anastasia, and Paul to volunteer for the Rutland mission. The five sisters left New York on 5 September 1873 and arrived in Rutland the next day. Their school opened less than two weeks later.

The original convent burned due to a defective flu on 21 January 1875 while the sisters were teaching school. Father Boylan offered the rectory for the Sisters' use, and he sought temporary quarters elsewhere. Just a few months after this reversal, Bishop DeGoesbriand asked the Superior in Flushing to form a separate community in "East Rutland," as the section was then called. Sister M. Philip journeyed from Flushing to become the first Mother Superior of the Rutland community of Sisters of St. Joseph. "Mother Philip" would continue to serve as Superior for the next nineteen years. During this formative time, she witnessed the building of Mt. St. Joseph Convent, part of which would open its doors as a school.

4 July 1879 marked the blessing and laying of the cornerstone of the new convent. Some parishioners thought it imprudent for Father Boylan to approve so large a building for just eight nuns. Work proceeded very slowly, hampered by a lack of funds. On 2 February 1882, the Sisters moved into the new convent although it was not completely finished. That spring Mount St. Joseph Academy accepted fifty one day pupils and one boarder. The Academy would remain an all girls school for the next forty five years.

Miss Mary Kingsley and Miss Elizabeth Leahey were the first two girls to complete the high school curriculum in 1887. The number of graduates remained less than ten per year until 1915. Compared to the total enrollment of the school for those years, the small number of graduates undoubtedly reflects the economic status of many Catholics around the turn of the century. Large families, long hours of labor, and low wages did not allow students to stay in school through grade twelve. Likewise, the Sisters endured their share of hardship and privation. Many years passed before central heating was installed in the convent hence sleeping quarters went unheated. Although many of the Sisters lived extraordinarily long and productive lives, there were some who died young from virulent diseases that have been eradicated in our own time: tuberculosis, typhus, and influenza.

Curriculum at Mt. St. Joseph Academy has always reflected the needs of the community and of the times. In 1902 the first students graduated with Music and Commercial Course diplomas. The Commercial students developed skills that usually earned them an immediate placement in the work force, and the Mount's musicians and orchestra also had a fine reputation. Many Music alumna became teachers of Music themselves.

AND REFLECTIONS

"Most of our Catholic people could not afford private education. My father and mother seemed to think they were willing to make quite a sacrifice for me to go to the convent and have whatever the Sisters could offer. We had nine full grades at St. Peter's, so the academic course at the Academy was only three years. I went to the Academy because I did what I was told in those days, and of course, ever since, I'm glad I did. We were set apart, the girls that had the convent education.

My father was a letter carrier, and I was the oldest of seven; it was quite a sacrifice for them to send me. The tuition was $25.00 a year. There were only six of us who were able to go. My father had to leave school at the age of 14 to help educate an older brother who was studying for the priesthood, so he knew what lack of education meant. His idea was to do the very best you can.

In November of our Senior year, we had to take the State Boards. All six of us took them; you couldn't graduate without that certificate. Mason Stone was the Commissioner of Education, and he was a hard-boiled gentleman. We all passed the examinations. Mother St. Charles had a letter from Mason Stone. In it he said that he would take any teacher that she could send him. He would rather have her students than any others in the state. We began at twenty minutes of nine until quarter of twelve, and then we went back at one o'clock until twenty minutes of our. We weren't expected to go to daily Mass although we sometimes went to the convent chapel, not really going to Mass but to meet the altar boys.

Mother St. Charles had all three years; she was the only teacher. She had six Seniors, four Juniors, and then the six of us. We adored Mother St. Charles. She was very helpful, dedicated to religious life and to education, a marvelous teacher.

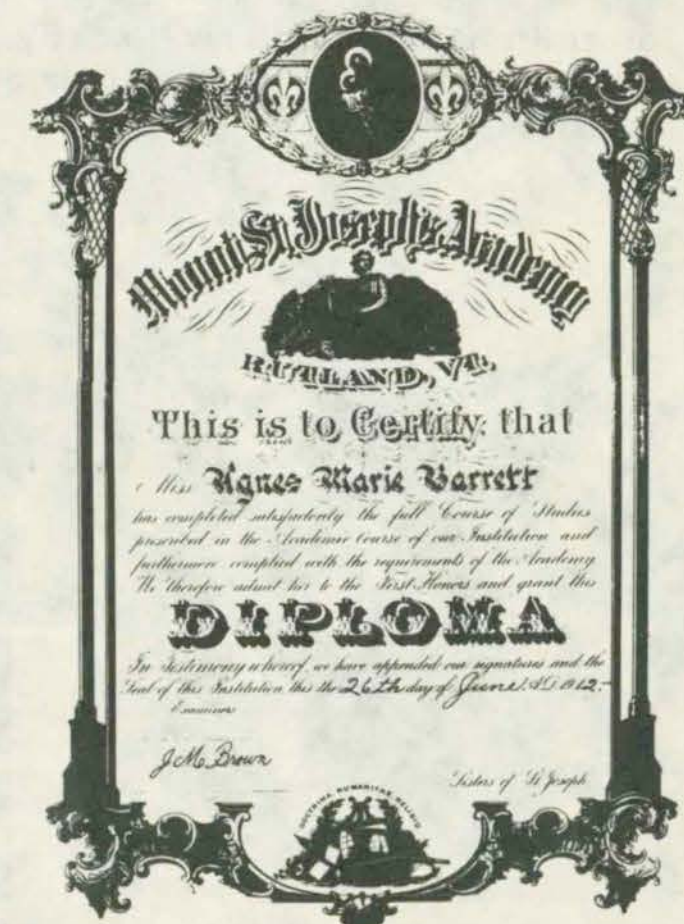

We had everything; we had Geometry, Algebra, and Physics, Chemistry, Geology, Astronomy, three kinds of history, Church History, American History, and Ancient History, all taught by Mother St. Charles. She even had a telescope, and when she'd be teaching astronomy, she'd bring us back evenings.

We were pushed a little bit in those days. St. Peter's used to have a parish monthly which gave commitments for the altar boys and so on, and it also gave the averages of every darn student, anyone with a grade over 80. If you didn't get in it, you might just as well hang up your boots. We had to maintain an average of ninety or better to receive the gold medal.

The school had the respect of the community, no question about it."

Margaret Kingsley Canary, Class of 1911, (above) wears her gold medal in this graduation portrait. With her contemporary, Anna Collins O'Brien, '10, she represents the Mount's most senior alumnae. Mrs. Canary has long supported her alma mater, reaching back to the time when she volunteered her time to help raise money for building the 1926 addition. A conversation with her (left) give us invaluable insights into life at the Academy more than 75 years ago. Agnes Barrett's 1912 diploma (below) shows how ornate the certificate used to be. Music graduates (below left) received a special diploma for their curriculum from 1902 to 1955.

Both of these beloved Superiors influenced the lives of many students and religious during the years of transition for M.S.J.

THE SISTERS' fiftieth anniversary in Rutland was fittingly celebrated on 3 September 1923. The Rutland Herald recorded the event: "The greatest number of Catholic Church dignitaries ever assembled in Vermont attended golden jubilee services at St. Peter's Church this morning with Rt. Rev. Bishop J. J. Rice as the celebrant at a solemn High Mass. During the services the following order of procession was carried out, censer bearer, cross bearer, two acolytyes, clergy subdeacon, assistant priests . . . mitre bearer, crosier bearer, bishop with deacons of honor."

Since enrollment of both students and boarders had increased, the convent no longer provided adequate classroom space. An addition, immediately to the north of the convent would solve the problem. A drive to raise $200,000. for the new building commenced on the same day as the Golden Jubilee. Alumnae generously donated over $1500. to the fund. With shrewd business acumen, Mother Columba worked very closely with Father Brown in planning every stage of the building which would house a Chapel, gym, and the necessary classrooms, labs, music studios, and dormitories. The Sisters of St. Joseph Corporation authorized Mother Columba to spend $250,000. and borrow another $100,000. After almost three years of planning, the construction began. On 19 July 1926, Father Brown laid the cornerstone. By the fall of 1927, the building was completed so that freshmen boys could enroll for the first time at M.S.J. These young men would comprise the first co-ed graduating class in 1931.

The oldest extant graduation portrait (above) shows the Class of 1897 posing formally. From left to right are Catherine Reilly Clifford, Mary Grant, Emma Brislin McGarry, Gertrude Foley, and Anna L. Barrett. Emma McGarry became the first organizer of her sister alumnae who undertook many fund-raising activities. The convent steps were often the scene for many outdoor pictures like this one (above right) of boarders and day students at the Mount in 1918 and the other of the Sisters of St. Joseph on the occasion of their golden anniversary in 1923. ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This centennial booklet has a two-fold purpose: to commemorate our school's anniversary and to preserve some aspects of its history. Beginning in 1939 with the first edition of The Mount, the yearbooks have left an invaluable record of names and faces, events and turning points. However, for many years, the Sisters of St. Joseph were not photographed for the yearbook. With many photos from the convent archives reproduced here for the first time, we can give recognition to the sisters who gave so much of themselves to sustain M.S.J.

Mt. St. Joseph's graduates have always responded generously in supporting their alma mater. A few alumnae can vividly recall those early years when M.S.J. was known primarily as a girl's academy. Even more importantly, these loyal supporters came forward with cherished mementos which provide visible testimony of the transitional years to a coeducational high school. We have thus been able to publish a valuable collection of graduation portraits and to give life to a list of names.

No single booklet can define all M.S.J. has been in the last century. There will continue to be many unsung contributors, hard-working parents, dedicated parishioners, unselfish benefactors. We have focused on some aspects of M.S.J. beyond its long-time standard of academic excellence: music, drama, athletics, and community service. These pictures represent but part of the whole. The many faces of M.S.J. tell us the school is not only a community in itself, it is also a vital part of the community at large.

A cursory look at these pages reveals how much of Catholic education has changed since the school's founding, yet the same fundamental tenets of commitment and service remain of those who are called to teach. The challenges before us at the start of our second century are no more formidable than those faced by a few sisters and young women one hundred years ago. How well they responded! Let their example be our inspiration.

"A Centennial Remembrance"*

We are also grateful to the following for loaning pictures:

Rita McGarry Waterman, The Canary Family, Hazel Gilman Castle, Margaret Mahoney McDevitt, Martha Keefe Campagne, Kathleen Powers, Timothy J. McCue, Ann Reilly, Janet Bove Day, Anne Hinchey Wimett, Mary Reilly Foley, Genevieve Cannon, Jeanette McCormick Hackett, Philippa Barrett Merchant, Rita Dutelle Bishop, Richard and Moira Flanagan Fagan, Sheehan Tree McGinnis, Carole and Lucille Notte, Kathleen McGarry Brown

Below: Left insert: Sister Annunciata, Michael Dwyer. The other photographs were donated after the first section of this booklet went to press, but both pictures were too precious not to be included. A group of young ladies stand in front of the convent around 1905. Right insert: Mary Kingsley, the first M.S.J. graduate.

DEDICATION

On November 24, 1983, Thanksgiving day, a friend and classmate of ours was taken away from us when Jeffrey Ernest Gonyea, who was suffering from bone cancer, died.

Jeff was an avid sports fan. He excelled as a great leader on his youth hockey team and was sure to be a fine football player. He had been manager for many Mountie football teams. Above all, Jeff was a fighter. He would never give up or complain. He always had a friendly smile about him even when we knew he was in extreme pain.

Jeff should be an example for all of us to follow.

We, the one hundredth graduating class of Mount Saint Joseph Academy, wish to dedicate our yearbook to someone who has given the school many years of faithful service as a teacher, coach, and friend, someone who exemplifies the "Mountie spirit . . ."

Dear Graduates:

As you take leave of us and the people and places you have known for all of these years, those who advise you are many, and those who would direct you are eager. May I presume to be one who offers you love and concern and a prayer for happiness. Your enviable youth impels you, and I urge you on - to follow a dream if you will, chase a rainbow, or even tilt with a windmill! Life is yours to live, to love, to celebrate, and may no disenchanted prophet of doom deny you. Peace, Joy and Love!

-Father Raymond Giroux,
Pastor, St. Peter's Parish

Dear Graduates:

CONGRATULATIONS! The moment you have waited for has finally arrived. You are about to embark upon a new life, with new horizons. The basics, the tools you need to face life, are now yours. It is up to you to determine how you will use what you have learned. In a larger sense, you find that the process of learning is just beginning, with new directions and decisions. In your new pilgrimage you will find depression and defeat, happiness and fulfillment. Christ has taught us that the basis of love is faith in the love of God. Most of what we learn comes from the heart. The mind gives us direction, but the heart gives life meaning. May the love of God fill your heart with richness and abundance of meaning and richness of faith. May you bless you today and always as you strive to KNOW HIM, LOVE HIM, AND SERVE HIM all the days of your life

-Father Reid C. Mayo,
Pastor, Christ the King Parish

Dear Graduates:

It is an end and a beginning that you experience this year. You will be leaving behind you many good times, friends, moments of growth. I pray you go forth with hope and trust in God, knowing that He promises to be with you as you begin another step in your life journey.

Be grateful for the efforts of your parents to give you the best they could; be grateful to your teachers for the time, patience and love that they have given to you; be grateful to your friends for their love and support; be grateful to God for all the gifts He has given to you. Be open to the possibilities ahead and with God's Spirit, continue to become all that you can.

-Father Richard Tinney,
Pastor, Immaculate Heart Parish

It is with heartfelt joy that I write to congratulate you, the Sisters of St. Joseph, the administration, faculty and students of Mount Saint Joseph Academy - past and present - on the occasion of your Centennial Year.

The Diocese of Burlington, as well as the city of Rutland, the State of Vermont and places far beyond our environs, have benefited greatly from the quality Catholic education which you have provided to your students over the past century. In the diocese we are especially blessed to have had so many vocations to the priesthood and religious life. We are equally grateful for the many outstanding laity, who have enriched the family, business, political and professional life of the civic community particularly in the Rutland area.

On behalf of the priests, religious and faithful laity of the Diocese of Burlington, I extend to you our prayers and very best wishes for continued excellence in all your educational endeavors and for God's choicest blessings upon the entire Mount St. Joseph community.

Devotedly yours in Christ,
(Most Reverend) John A. Marshall Bishop of Burlington

Dear MSJ Graduates,

Congratulations on the completion of twelve years of schooling and four years of the MSJ experience.

You have the honor of being the 100th graduating class from "The Mount" and so you have the special privilege of manifesting the spirit of MSJ to the Rutland community in celebration and pride.

To be a member of the MSJ community is to enjoy a zest for life, to live a special sense of Christian Community and to give generously of time and talent to others.

I am happy to share this year of celebration with you because you are the splendid hope of the future for the Catholic Church. You are the reason why so many people: parents, teachers, pastors, and the Catholic Church of Vermont contribute to the quality of education at MSJ.

I hope that as you enter the world of work and higher education you will remember the values that have been a part of your life at MSJ and you will take your place as responsible Catholics in a world which needs youth, vitality and faith.

Good luck to you. May God's choicest blessings be yours.

Yours in the "Mountie" Spirit,
Sister Ruth Ravey
Superintendent

Dear Graduates of 1987:

As we have noted, you have the privilege of being our one hundredth class to graduate from Mt. St. Joseph Academy. You have walked a way which has been rich in the tradition of genuine love of God and neighbor, academic excellence, caring service and outstanding achievements in music, drama, and athletics. I urge you to continue in this manner as those who have gone before you have done.

Your life now goes beyond the atmosphere of M.S.J. and as you go, I feel pride for you in your accomplishment of graduation. You have become very special.

As you continue your lives, I know that you will carry with you the love, the presence and the understanding patience which our world needs and which you have to give. I trust that each of you will find the path that will permit you,

"To act justly,
to love tenderly, and to walk humbly with your God." Micah 6:8

As the 1986 season began, the outlook was dubious. The team was relying on totally rebuilt offense and a defense riddled with new faces. But under the spectacular leadership of Coaches Cioffi and Zingale, the group pulled together and surprised all by taking the Division I crown in a hard-fought contest with repeat runners-up, Burlington. The Mounties finished with a 9-1 record, losing only to the New York power, Binghamton. The biggest highlight of the '86 season was a 48-7 thrashing of crosstown rivals, Rutland High School. The Mounties were successful on all levels against the Raiders, beating them on the J.V., Freshmen, girls, as well as the Varsity level.

The staff of the Mount would like to thank all who participated in the creation of our Centennial Yearbook. We especially recognize Mr. Gustav Verderber, Donald Loseby, Gary Bouchard, Marty McClellan, and Tom Hefferman for their assistance with photography. In addition we appreciated Mrs. Sheehan McGinnis' efforts with bookkeeping.

Special thanks is given to my advisor, Mr. Michael Dwyer and yearbook representative Mark Saks for the direction they gave to this book. Mr. Dwyer's creation of the centennial section is a valuable addition to the history of MSJ and a fine compliment to the yearbook. The countless hours spent by my staff, particularly Mike Reczek's and Andrea Justin's typing contributions, are gratefully acknowledged.

This yearbook can remain a means to remember our four years at MSJ and perhaps to discover its past.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.
